PREAMBLE

M.A. English, an extension of B.A. (Honours) English Programme, is aimed at inculcating in the students a better understanding of man and his socio-cultural milieu by providing a thorough study of English literature. It is all about attaining mastery over the skills already acquired during the B.A. (Honours) English Programme. The focus is more on developing the analytical skills so that students may develop a genuine capacity of appreciation of a work of literature to derive relevant socio-cultural lessons as well as to arrive at genuine aesthetic pleasure. The Department, in keeping with the great poet Rabindranath Tagore concept of "Fullness of man" works for inculcating the sensitivity of human values among students so that they are firmly rooted in their culture and at the same time gain the proficiency in languages so that they can fly high in the sky.

The Programme strives to enable the students acquire competence, excellence, and proficiency in language and literature along with human values and ethics. Its objective is to enhance the language and literary skills of the students to enable them to read critically, write analytically, speak effectively and evaluate rhetorical strategies. The department provides a conducive teaching-learning atmosphere to enable the students develop a holistic understanding of literature in English by strengthening their ability to analyze all forms of literary expressions. The students are endowed with a literary insight that makes them develop an attitude of continuous and lifelong learning thus enabling them to pursue advanced research in English Studies and to carry forward their research and career opportunities further.

In keeping with this grand vision, the syllabus for the programme is carefully designed so that the requirements of different levels of society can well be addressed. The curriculum of this programme is a unique mix of courses catering to local, national and international requirements. Despite the fact that literature is a comprehensive discipline and the facts and issues of the same are universal and applicable to all situations, our courses are diverse in nature, keeping in mind the interests of all levels. We have the courses, such as, "English Literature: From Chaucer to Marvell", "English Romantic Poetry", "Twentieth Century Fiction", "World Literature", etc.- these are in keeping with the demands and patterns, we have globally. Again, the courses, such as "Indian Writing in English", "Dissertation", etc., these meet the aspirations and demands of national level. At the same time, courses like "Dissertation" and "Seminar", have distinctive local flavours so that the students can chose subjects of their dissertation from local, national and global perspectives. However, we encourage our students to complete dissertation on topics of local and national significance.

The curriculum covers the whole annals of English Literature from Chaucer to the contemporary times. The specialized courses, such as American literature, Indian Writing in English, Commonwealth Literature, Continental Literature and many other emerging streams of social and literary relevance come under the purview of the programme. Most of the courses are targeted towards inculcating such concept and aptitude of English language and literature that the students are able to have their firm claim in the job market. The Courses like "English Literature: From Chaucer to Marvell", "Shakespearean Drama", "Twentieth Century Poetry", "World Literature" and most of the others are targeted towards the Students' access to the job and better career perspectives. We have the courses, such as "English Literature Down the Ages", "Critical Theory: From Plato to Arnold", "Modern Critical Theory"- those are directly focused on Skill Enhancement so that the students acquire the skills of appreciation of literature in more appropriate and objective way. The practical courses like "Dissertation" and "Seminar" provide the students with ample confidence and proficiency in their field so that they can opt for initiating their own job venture.

The Programme also caters to the demands of recent socio-cultural concern about environment and sustainability, gender sensitization, human values and professional ethics. As literature is a wholesome study of human existence, it cannot ignore the socio-cultural environment. Hence most of the literary works and streams address the social and cultural issues in a big way. The courses like "Shakespearean Drama", "English Romantic Poetry" and "Twentieth Century Poetry" address the pertinent issues like environment and sustainability conservation of Nature. Courses like "Twentieth Century Fiction", "Modern Critical Theory" and "Human Rights and Gender Equality" raises various issues related to gender equality. The courses like, "Shakespearean Drama", "Romantic Poetry", "Twentieth Century Poetry", "Twentieth Century Fiction", "Human Rights and Gender Equality" etc. concentrate on human values. Similarly, the course like "Practical English for Professionals" highlights professional ethics.

Some courses of the programme have been prepared in the light of the emerging interdisciplinary fields of study. Special attentions have been given in inculcating original scholarship by giving emphasis on research and presentation skills. Writing dissertation and participation in seminars has been made a precondition of this programme.

(a) Course credits assignment

Each course has a certain number of credits assigned to it depending upon its duration in periods for lecture, tutorial and laboratory/clinical practice in a week. A few courses/activities are without credit (s) and are referred to as Audit Pass Courses (APC) but are mandatory to pass as a partial fulfillment of award of degree.

(b) Earning of credits
